

Financial Resources and Information

Per the Defense Finance and Accounting Service Statement:

Active military, Reserve and National Guard members will be paid on time for pay entitlements earned Jan. 19 or earlier. Military members cannot be paid for duty performed after the expiration of the Continuing Resolution Authority on Jan. 19. Once a CRA or another appropriations act is signed into law, normal disbursement of military pay will resume.

Military retirees and annuitants are not paid from appropriations, so those payments will continue as scheduled.

If military members require any financial assistance at this time, contact your first sergeant to coordinate with Air Force Aid representatives.

For specific questions regarding other financial services during the shutdown, the finance office can be reached during duty hours at 321-494-7218 or 321-494-7171. Outside of duty hours, Maj Jennifer Smith, Commander of the Comptroller Squadron, is available at 321-338-0357 for any emergency inquiries which cannot wait for normal duty hours.
